

BAN PARKING ON WEST SIDE OF N. WASHINGTON; AIR COMPLAINTS

Ordinances prohibiting parking of vehicles on the west side of N. Washington St., from Chambersburg St. to W. Lincoln Ave., and limiting parking in Lincoln Square when the new meters are installed to one hour were adopted by borough council at its October meeting Monday night in the council chambers at the fire engine house.

In addition to living parking to the east side only, council also directed that a white line and the words "Limit" be painted on the street at N. Washington and Chambersburg Sts. and a white center line be placed to keep vehicles to the right side.

Complaints were aired that motorists drive too near the center and too close to the intersection, interfering with the passage of other vehicles turning from Chambersburg into N. Washington St. notably Greyhound buses.

One Hour On Meters

A suggestion was made that yellow lines be painted on the curbs at street intersections in the vicinity of Gettysburg College. College students have been parking their cars too close to some of these intersections, councilmen said. It was pointed out, however, that there is a state law which police should enforce against parking too close to intersections.

The present parking meter ordinance, adopted in September, 1945, shortly before the present meters were installed, provides for 12-minute parking for one cent with manually-operated meters and 50 minutes for five cents, with a two-hour limit on parking. The amended ordinance provides for not more than one hour parking for five cents wherever automatic meters are installed.

Council has thus far authorized the installation of the new automatics in Lincoln Square only, but the ordinance will cover one-hour, five-cent parking wherever they may be installed at a later date.

Discuss Railroad St.

Pointing out that Railroad St. is an excellent by-pass between Carlisle and N. Washington Sts. and is used extensively by motorists, Councilman John Millard asked that borough police keep automobiles from parking on and interfering with traffic.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner was authorized to place a stop sign at the N. Washington St. end. He said he had no authority to place one at Carlisle St. because this is a state-maintained street, and that there was no place for one because of the railroad tracks. Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Buellet said the borough had promised the Public Utility Commission to erect such signs.

Burgess William G. Weaver reported complaints of college students parking in violation of the law in the vicinity of the campus.

New Policy On Students

"We have a new dean of men at the college, and he has told us that if we find college boys who have been drinking, to 'dump them on the campus,'" the burgess said. "If they're worse, he said to lock them up. That's what we're planning to do."

Councilmen said the same treatment should apply to parking and traffic violations. "Arrests would stop the violations," Councilman Mahlon P. Hartzell said. Weaver said letters would be sent to the fraternities and to the dean of men.

Councilman John Fox asked the burgess to consider one-sided parking only on N. Stratton St. He said the Safety Committee would make no recommendation until the next meeting.

Ask School Signs

Burgess Weaver said he had received requests from school authorities for school zone signs. Winebrenner said signs were already in place for all but the High St. and St. Francis Xavier Schools on High St. He was authorized to erect one for the High St. School, and two for the parochial school, on recommendation of the Safety Committee.

Would Change Name

A request from Burgess Weaver that the Property Committee consider the re-naming of the No. 3 fire truck was referred to this committee.

A number of street improvements were authorized. The borough engineer was authorized to grade and blacktop Weed Alley following the reading of a letter signed by Mrs. E. Carter and six other residents complaining of the condition of the alley. No action was taken on a request contained in the letter that the name of the alley be changed. The letter said "We think the present name is a disgrace." "Church St." or "Chapel St." were suggested.

9-Month-Old Babe Is Ill With Polio

A nine-month-old boy is the newest victim of polio in Adams County. The youngster is John P. Todt, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Todt, Hanover R. 1, whose illness was diagnosed Monday at the Harrisburg Hospital as anterior polio. The case is described as "mild" but both of the boy's legs are affected. He was taken to the hospital on Saturday. The Todts have one older son.

The Todt home in Union Twp., near the Maryland line, was placed under quarantine Monday by William I. Shields, state sanitary officer.

9 CARRIER BOYS ARE GUESTS OF ROTARY MONDAY

Tribute was paid to the newspaperboys of the nation at Monday's meeting of Rotary held at the YWCA.

Nine Gettysburg Times newsboys, Edward Groft, Clarence Bagot, William Little, Charles Althoff, Francis Althoff, Ronald Sprinkle, Robert Ziegler, Ronald Hankey and Terry Gardner, were guests of the club.

Harvey Harmon, circulation manager of The Gettysburg Times, introduced the carriers and outlined the work of the newsboys.

G. Henry Roth of the editorial staff of The Times told the Rotarians, "the carrier boy is the only thing in the nation that has not changed in the past 230 years. Benjamin Franklin was the first newsboy of record—he delivered his brother's newspaper—the second newspaper established in the U. S.

Can't Improve Service

"Despite all the changes that have come from the days of the Indians to the days of the atom bomb, no better way has been found to deliver newspapers than by some young boy, carrying his route through rain, snow, sleet or whatever the weather may be."

"We sometimes sit by our warm firesides, comfortable and dry, and complain because the paper gets wet. Remember the boy carrying that paper gets wet, too—and sometimes wetter than the paper he is trying to protect with his raincoat, as he makes his deliveries from door to door."

Roth told the group that 80 percent of the $2,000,000 newspapers printed daily in the U. S. are delivered by carrier.

President Richard Dreas presided at the meeting. Julius Swope was announced as chairman of "Operation Old Clothes," the rummage sale to be sponsored by the club in the near future. Harold Reuning, treasurer for the Allenberry Theater ticket sales campaign, turned over $666.56, the profit realized from the ticket sales, to the club.

Mrs. Nettie Harner Is Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Nettie E. Harner, 93, of Fairfield R. 2, who died Friday, were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Allison Funeral Home, Emmitsburg.

The Rev. Edmund Welker officiated and interment was in Mountain View Cemetery. Pallbearers were John Elker, Donald Smith, Stanley Tracey, Guy Gordon, Charles White and John Hare.

EMMITSBURG WOMAN, 96, DIES

Mrs. Sarah Emma Nunemaker, Emmitsburg's oldest resident, 96 years, four months and 21 days, died at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at her home, 530 W. Main St., Emmitsburg, after an illness of two years. She was born in Frederick County, Md., and had been a resident of Emmitsburg for 94 years.

Her husband, the late William Pierce Nunemaker, died in 1919.

Mrs. Nunemaker was a daughter of the late Joseph and Sarah Ellen Waddle Smith. She was a member of Trinity Methodist Church of Emmitsburg.

She leaves one daughter, Mary Edythe Nunemaker, at home; two brothers, Charles Waddle, Denver, and Howard Waddle, Hutchinson, Kan., and a niece, Margaret Waddle Hipple, Hutchinson. A son, Guy S. Nunemaker, died in 1946.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the late home, her pastor, the Rev. Bryon Kee-secher, officiating, and interment in Mountain View Cemetery.

Friends may call at her home Tuesday evening after 7 o'clock.

CHEST GOAL IS $21,450; DRIVE OPENS OCT. 23

Gettysburg's Community Chest Drive for $21,450 will begin October 23 and extend to October 30, it was decided Monday evening at a meeting of Chest officials held at the office of Philip R. Bickle, Baltimore St.

The dates are a change from the period originally planned from October 22 to October 30, and the change was made because the annual "kick-off" dinner for the solicitors cannot be held until October 22. The dinner, to be held at 6:30 p.m. at the YWCA, at which supplies will be distributed to the solicitors and team captains, will again be held without cost to the Community Chest, President Donald M. Swope said.

AUDITORS GIVE REPORT ON RECREATION FINANCES

The Gettysburg Recreation Association spent $8,607.29 during the period from July 13, 1951, to September 16, 1952, the report of the auditors shows.

Cash on hand July 13, 1951, was $2,158.23. The association received $9,000 from the Community Chest, $150 from the borough for lights at the Recreation Park and $15.25 in other income.

One thousand dollars was paid to the Gettysburg School District. Other expenditures were: Equipment, improvements, repairs and supplies, $2,033.75; electric, $137.91; telephone, $70.83; labor and salaries, $2,720.27; water, $36.93; miscellaneous, $140.10; treasurer's bond, $20; travel expenses of Donald Joseph, recreation director, $65; M. A. Hartley Co., mixer, $25; liability insurance, $97; Community League fees, $60.50; Warner Novelty Co., phonograph, $1,100; baseball league fees, $25; Wolff Farm Supply, tractor and mower, $1,000; Rogers Herr, expenses to York, $75.

Cash on hand on September 16, 1952, is shown as $2,716.19. A special fund was closed out during the year, with the payment of $53.09 to the Gettysburg News and Sporting Goods store. Mrs. Sydney J. Poppay, former member of the board, was treasurer of this fund. George D. March is treasurer of the association.

The statement was audited by S. Richard Eisenhart, John W. Hewitt and Percy S. Miller, borough auditors.

BENDERSVILLE RESTAURANT IS MODERNIZED

Bendersville's first soda bar in the history of the borough will have its grand opening Wednesday, and patrons who come to Bucher's Restaurant (Bendersville Hotel) will be given free ice cream sodas between 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. There will also be "Elsie" comic books for the boys and girls.

The soda bar is entirely new in every respect, according to Mrs. Annie Bucher, hotel proprietor. The walls have been finished in knotty pine plywood, lighting fixtures of modern type installed, four booths arranged and a modern soda bar and all its fixtures installed, with nine stools.

The dining room of the hotel has also been redecorated. Its seven tables seat 24 persons, and full course meals will be served daily from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday dinners will be served, beginning October 19.

The kitchen has also been modernized and new equipment installed.

Mrs. Bucher has been proprietor of the restaurant and hotel since 1935, when she purchased it from Mervin Heller following the death of her husband. The building was erected in 1836 by Charles Myers, and was known as the Elk Horn Hotel.

New Faces On College Staff

With the opening of the fall semester at Gettysburg College, a new dean of men and a new chaplain took over their duties. Left is Robert H. Fryling, the dean of men. He received his MS degree at the University of Pittsburgh. At right, the Rev. Edw. E. Korte, instructor in Bible and college chaplain. He received his BD at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. Both are college alumni.

County Has Its First Presidential Vote

Adams County has its first vote cast in the presidential election in November.

The vote was the first of the military ballots, 150 of which have been sent out by the commissioners. The ballot was returned from Fort Meade today. It was sealed and filed to be counted after the election.

The election will also be the first time a veterans ballot was used in the county. For the past several years ballots for veterans in hospitals have been printed by the county according to law. But this year marked the first time anyone has ever requested one. The ballot was sent to a veteran in Coatesville Hospital.

MRS. FISHER HONORED BY MISSION GROUP

Mrs. Wallace E. Fisher, retiring president of the Women's Missionary Society of Christ Lutheran Church, who will move to Lancaster with her husband later this week when he accepts a pastorate there, was honored at the October meeting of the society Monday evening in the social rooms at the Seminary.

Mrs. Ralph D. Heim, who succeeds Mrs. Fisher as president of the society, presented Mrs. Fisher with a leather-bound copy of the new Revised Standard Version of the Bible on behalf of the members of the society as a parting gift. Mrs. A. R. Wentz announced that as a retiring president Mrs. Fisher will be honored with a life membership in the society.

Many guests attended the meeting and heard an address by the Rev. Herbert H. Schmidt, seminary librarian, on "The Book on Its Mission."

Going To Conference

Mrs. Fisher opened the meeting and led the devotional period. John Allen sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Harker and the hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." He was accompanied by Mrs. Claude Miller. Mrs. Fisher introduced the Rev. Mr. Schmidt and after his address turned the meeting over to Mrs. Heim.

It was announced that Mrs. Heim will represent the society at Central Pennsylvania Synod to be held in York October 14 and 15.

Mrs. Wentz presented a copy of the new Bible translation to the Rev. Mr. Schmidt in appreciation of his services in planning programs.

Displays Old Bibles

In connection with his talk Monday evening, the speaker used charts, diagrams and various forms of scrolls and books to show some of the many forms in which the Bible has appeared. Another phase of his message dealt with "the trials and triumphs of the human instruments who sped the book in its mission, the translators of the Bible and the authors of its many versions."

WEAVER TELLS LIONS OF NEW ASSESSMENT PLAN IN COUNTY

"No one will be hurt by the assessment equalization plan now being set up in Adams County unless his present tax valuation is silly," Chief Assessor William G. Weaver told members of the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening in a talk at their weekly dinner meeting at the high school cafeteria.

Admitting that some present assessments are "silly," Mr. Weaver added: "The people in the county who are assessed too high now will benefit by the new assessment plan." He predicted that properties now missed from the tax lists will "pay for the setting up of the new assessment plan" and that most taxpayers will not be penalized by bigger tax bills but actually will benefit by having all county properties assessed on the same basis.

"Under the system that is now being replaced, assessments were made by 36 men and women honestly trying to do their duties but they exercised 36 different judgments in fixing property values. Records show that properties now are assessed at from 16.9 to 31.48 per cent of actual values. Under the new plan, the entire county will be assessed on the same basis," Mr. Weaver explained.

Praises Local Assessor

Pointing out that Adams is one of 59 counties required by state law to set up the new assessment plan, the chief assessor, who is also burgess of Gettysburg, described the "tools" to be employed in his office: the tax maps, property records cards and owners' index. "Assessors in the various districts now become simply gatherers of information. No one person will be relied upon to fix property values," the speaker said. (Continued on Page 2)

TOWN OFFICERS GIVE REPORTS TO COUNCILMEN

Burgess William G. Weaver collected $110 in parking violation fines during September, he reported to borough council Monday night. Other receipts included $44 for building permits; $268 for digging permits; $346.93 in Majestic Theater tax and $55.48 in Strand Theater tax.

In his report of police activities, the burgess said police made two arrests for disorderly conduct; one for non-support; five for stop sign, red light and blinker light violations; one for driving too fast for conditions; six for reckless driving; one for double parking; one for failing to reveal identity at the scene of an accident; five involving licenses.

Seven accidents were investigated during the month, according to the report; 12 miscellaneous investigations conducted; eight stolen property cases probed; six escorts furnished; one strayed person and one lost child found; two calls received on the prisoners who escaped from the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg and three minor cases investigated.

Fire Chief Reports

The report of Fire Chief Donald G. Jacobs showed four calls answered in September, two borough and two rural. Total loss was estimated at $1,025, of which $1,000 was to a truck on the Harrisburg Rd.

The report of Borough Treasurer John H. Bashore showed receipts for the month of $4,105.84 and expenditures of $3,266.24. The balance in the general fund on October 6 was $53,243.89.

Receipts included $2,130.86 from meters; $200 in bond coupons; $50 in liquor taxes; $279 from an Inductive Equipment lien; $75 from justices of the peace and $524.41 collected by the burgess.

W. G. LAWRENCE DIES SUDDENLY IN CORN FIELD

William George (Red) Lawrence, 77, of New Oxford R. 1, near Irishtown, died suddenly Monday afternoon. He had been listening to the World Series baseball game on his radio, and then went into a corn field, where he was found by his wife about 4:45 p.m. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, attributed death to a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Lawrence was born in Adams County, a son of the late George and Josephine Wilson Lawrence. He was a cigar maker, retiring from this profession 27 years ago. He had lived at his late address for 46 years. He was a member of Sacred Heart Church, Conewago.

Funeral On Thursday

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Isabelle M. Brady Lawrence, to whom he would have been married 48 years on October 25; a brother, Paul, Irishtown, and a sister, Mrs. Joseph Livelsberger, Hanover R. 4. Fred Klunk, New Oxford, Adams County Democratic chairman, was raised by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence since he was one year old.

Funeral services Thursday morning, meeting at the late residence at 8:15 o'clock, with a requiem mass at the Sacred Heart Church, the Rev. Fr. Harold E. Keller, celebrant, and interment in the Conewago Chapel Cemetery.

Friends may call at the late residence Wednesday evening. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m.

STAG PARTY TONIGHT

The weekly Stag Party will be held in the men's locker room at the Gettysburg Country Club this evening at 9 o'clock. William Musser will be in charge.

MAYERS WILL FILED

The will of John D. Mayers, late of Littletown, has been entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder. George W. Mayers, Littletown R. 2, is executor of the $5,000 estate.

ICC PUTS BLAME ON BOTH CREWS IN TRAIN WRECK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today the crews of two Western Maryland railroad freight trains were both partly to blame for a rear-end collision near Berlin Junction, Pa., last Aug. 13.

(The ICC decision is exactly the same as that reached by a coroner's jury at an inquest conducted in Gettysburg by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, after the accident.)

Both trains were headed westward at the time of the accident. The engineer and fireman of the second train were killed when their locomotive ran into the rear of the first train, which was switching cars on a curve.

Both Crews At Fault

The victims were engineer Edward Chaffin, 62, and fireman Irvin R. Croft, 34, both of Hanover, Pa. The ICC investigators said the direct cause of the mishap was a failure on the part of the crew of the second train to ascertain the status of the freight ahead.

On the other hand, the report said the first train should, under the rules, have furnished flag protection at its rear end when it stopped to rearrange its cars near Berlin Junction.

The flagman of the first train testified at hearings he thought rear-end protection was not required under the operating orders of the moment. But, he said he threw out a lighted fuse when his train slowed down for the switching, and he also alighted with a red flag in his hand because signalling might be required at a nearby highway grade crossing.

The conductor of the second train said he was maintaining a lookout on the approach to the curve but did not observe any warning signal. Stripped of technical language, the ICC report said the first train apparently believed it had clear use of the trackage in the switching area and that the following train erroneously assumed that the first train had cleared out of the area.

SCOUT PROGRAM IS OUTLINED AT DISTRICT MEET

Plans for a number of activities during the next several months were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the Black Walnut District Committee of the Boy Scouts held in the offices of the chairman of the committee, Attorney Edward B. Buellet, in the First National Bank building.

At the same time five scouts were advanced in rank at a District Board of Review held at the same place. Rev. Clyde R. Brown was chairman of the board with Charles Trump, Gardner, and Donald Heiges, Biglerville, as members.

Frank Ehlman and David Harman, Biglerville, passed their requirements for Life Scout rank; William Woods, William Swisher and Philip Scott, all of Gettysburg Troop 73, passed Star Scout requirements.

Participate In Pageant

A request from the Western Maryland Railway for traffic lane duty by the Boy Scouts during the re-enactment of Lincoln's visit here October 18 was unanimously approved. Details of the scout duties will be announced later. District Chairman Buellet said. Field Executive Charles S. Harris, New Oxford R. 2, will be in charge of the scouts during that service.

All troops in the district are scheduled to participate in the Camporee to be held by the Indian Rock district Saturday and Sunday at the farm of E. Donald Scott, Cumberland Twp. The Black Walnut Scouts will be guests at the two-day session. About 400 boys will be present for the encampment, Harris estimated.

Plan For Jamboree

Chief Scout Executive Jack Watson, York, outlined plans for the 1953 National Boy Scout Jamboree to be held at Santa Ana, Calif., July 17 to 28. The York-Adams area will be permitted two full troops of 35 scouts each and three leaders per troop for the Jamboree, Watson said. He added that so far 22 scouts in the two county area have made down payments of $25 each on the cost of the trip. The fee for the Jamboree, including transportation, feeding, etc., will be about $350 per scout, Watson said. He read a letter from the local VFW post asking information concerning requirements.

JUDGE SHEELY
WILL BE RALLY
DAY SPEAKER

W. C. Sheely, judge of the courts of Adams County, will be the guest speaker for the annual Rally Day service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer. The speaker was secured by Stanley Staub, general superintendent of the Sunday School.

The Holy Communion service at St. Paul's Church on Sunday was very well attended. The communion message was brought by the Rev. Mr. Kammerer. The Senior choir, under the direction of L. Robert Snyder, with Mrs. Winfield D. Lippy, church organist, at the console, sang "With All Thy Heart," by Ira B. Wilson.

Following the Sunday worship service in St. Paul's Church, the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, baptized Steven Edward Hornberger, son of George E. and Jane Harner Hornberger, Park Ave. The child was born June 26, 1952, at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. The parents were the baptismal sponsors.

The Senior Choir of St. Paul's Church will meet for rehearsal on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Hear Guest Speaker

Mrs. Arthur T. Burr, near town, will be hostess to the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Centenary Methodist Church for the monthly meeting on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mervin L. Myers, of Hanover, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of Christ Reformed Church on Sunday evening. Mr. Myers discussed the topic "What Is the Church?" Donald Berwager was the leader for the meeting, which opened with the group singing of "Near to the Heart of God" and "Just As I Am" with Wilbert Messinger as leader and Mrs. LeRoy Berwager as pianist. The Scripture lesson was read by Mervin K. Myers and prayer was offered by LeRoy Berwager. A vocal duet was sung by Mrs. Harold E. Shoemaker and Mrs. LeRoy Berwager, accompanied on the piano by Fred A. Warner. A reading was given by John Koons, after which the group sang "Break Thou the Bread of Life." The society president, Mervin K. Myers, presided for the business period. The meeting concluded with the group singing of "God Be With You" and repeating the Lord's Prayer and C. E. benediction in unison.

The members of the Littlestown Men's Chorus will meet for rehearsal on Thursday evening at 9 o'clock at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

He also called attention to the relationship between the ancestry of the English Bible and its newest translation. He pleaded for "a new appreciation of the Word" and warned against the "danger of knowing about the Bible but not knowing the saving message of the Bible itself." He urged "such a familiar knowledge of the Bible that the Word of Life in the language of our own times live in people and through their lives." An exhibit of Bibles, prepared by the speaker, was on display.

A social period followed the meeting. The hostesses were Mrs. Harry F. Baughman, chairman; Mrs. John Kaltreider, Mrs. Jacob Myers, Mrs. Paul Spangler and Mrs. Parker Wagnild.

Girl Scout laws were discussed by Troop 6 during a meeting held recently at the home of the leader, Mrs. Richard Wayburn. Mrs. James Frazier, second leader, was also present. Plans were made to earn Tenderfoot badges.

This week the girls are working on "homemaking" as a project. They are presently learning to set a table properly and will practice in their own homes all week. The girls learned how to mark country roads with three trail signs. Foreign countries were selected from which the scouts will seek pen pals as a means of promoting the interest of international friendship.

The Friendship Circle and taps terminated the meeting. On Friday the girls will gather nuts on the Wayburn and Gunn properties. They plan to begin the construction of marionettes, the chief project of the year. The troop received a donation from an anonymous person for use in its Arts and Crafts Department.

Plans were discussed for the annual oyster and turkey supper to be served November 4 at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Lutheran Church. Two Taverns, Monday evening in the parish hall. There was an attendance of 33 members and two guests at the meeting which included a business session and program. Mrs. C. D. Trostle, Gettysburg R. 1, president, presided over both the business and social sessions.

The evening's program included: Group singing of "What a Friend We Have in Jesus"; a recitation, "Little Things Count," by Gloria Bowers; a reading, "Investing in Boys," by Miss Viola Sachs; a vocal solo, "Jesus Never Fails," by Miss Evelyn Weaver, and a reading, "One and One-Half Miles From Church," by Mrs. Trostle.

There will be a business session only Monday evening, November 3, it was announced. The following social committee was appointed for the December meeting: Miss Weaver, chairman; Mrs. Maurice Wherley, Mrs. Howard Harner, Mrs. Hobson Crouse, Mrs. William Grove, Mrs. Lloyd Snyder, Mrs. Mervin Patterson, Mrs. C. W. Bucher and Mrs. William Myers.

Refreshments were served Monday evening during the social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lynch and son, Norman 3rd, Germantown, visited their aunt, Mrs. Laura Alkoff, Baltimore St., over the week end.

Mrs. Henrietta Blocher entertained the Soroptimist Gavel Club at a dinner Monday evening at her home on W. Middle St.

Mrs. W. R. Sammel, YWCA board president; Mrs. Eric R. Deardorff, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Pfeffer, chairman of the World Fellowship Committee, and Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler of the Finance Committee, were in York today attending a Neighborhood Workshop of the YWCA's in eastern Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Raymond White, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White, Harold White and Larry Hennessey, all of Vineyard, N. J., spent Sunday with Mrs. Raymond White's mother, Mrs. Frank Grindler, Baltimore St.

The Literature Study Group of the AAUW will meet at the home of Mrs. Richard C. Eberhart, 60 Chambersburg St., Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Eberhart, who is in charge of the program, will review a book.

The St. Francis Xavier's council of the NCCW will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the school cafeteria where a movie will be shown entitled, "Road to Peace," starring Bing Crosby and Ann Blyth.

Plans were made to hold a Halloween party at a meeting of the BeeP Club Monday evening at the YWCA. The affair will be held the evening of October 20 in Shriver's barn near Barlow. The club announced that it would send school kits to the children of Korea.

Bowling teams were set up and plans were made to hold the first game at the News Agency the second Wednesday in November. Several of the club members assisted in preparing cards for the Community Chest drive at the office Monday evening.

Wedding

Free — Albright

Miss Gloriande Marie Albright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Albright, Hanover, and Jack Free, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford M. Free, also of Hanover, were married Saturday at 4 p.m. in Trinity Reformed Church, Hanover. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Howard E. Sheely.

The bride, who attended Hanover High School, is employed by Thelma's Candy store. The bride's same school in 1949, is employed by L. K. Frymeyer, Littlestown.

UNHURT IN UPSET

A pickup truck operated by Charles Fitzwater, Biglerville R. D., upset this morning at the intersection of the Biglerville and Table Rock Rds. Fitzwater, an employee of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., was on his way to work. He escaped injury. The truck was righted and he continued to Gettysburg.

GIRL PANDOWDY
CHAMP IN ADAMS

Nancy Jane Osborn, 16-year-old Aspers R. D. sophomore at Biglerville High School, was named as the champion apple pandowdy baker of the county, at the county contest Monday afternoon at Biglerville High School.

Runner-up was Ruth Irene Wolfe, 14, a sophomore at York Springs High School. Miss Wolfe is vice president of her school's chapter of the Future Homemakers of America. Both the first and second place winners are farm residents.

The apple pandowdy contest to select a county winner is part of a state-wide competition being conducted by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Association, the Pennsylvania Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America and the Appalachian Apple Service.

Other school representatives in the contest included Marie Miller, Gettysburg; Melvalene Nace, New Oxford; Mary Kuykendall, Fairfield; Grace Nickey, East Berlin, and Shirley Miller, Littlestown.

Judges were Mrs. Wilmer Bream, Charles I. Raffensperger, assistant county superintendent of schools, and Miss A. Louise Halbach, home economics adviser of York County.

as better names. There is a church located on the alley.

An alley at McCauslin Auto Sales was directed to be repaired. The borough secretary was directed to send a letter to the Greyhound Bus Lines, directing that they have a new curb and driveway built at the bus station on N. Washington St. The borough engineer reported that the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. had torn up the street at this point, and recommended that resurfacing be done rather than patching and that the approaches to Race Horse Alley on both sides of N. Washington St. be graded and repaired, and present gratings removed.

To Extend Highland Ave.

Winebrenner was also authorized to furnish a grade for the extension of Highland Ave. to the borough line on condition that the land be deeded to the borough for ordination as a street. Samuel Miller appeared before council seeking an improved street. He said curbs and sidewalks will be built.

Councilman Kenneth Johns reported that persons whose properties about an alley near Highland Ave. have collected sufficient funds to grade it, and wanted stone placed over it until spring. Winebrenner said if the alley is graded it will be allowed to settle this winter. Further action was deferred until the grading is completed.

Action on a proposal to place borough employees under Social Security was deferred until the next meeting. Members of the Police Department are under a pension plan, which, Atty. Buleit said, would have to be cancelled before Social Security would be approved. A new pension plan could be provided later, he said. He recommended that accumulated funds be used to provide temporary protection until new plans are set up.

Vote For Fall Cleanup

Council, on motion of Councilman John D. Teeter, voted to have a fall cleanup, whenever the borough highway department is able to begin it, to supplement the annual spring cleanup. The action was taken on recommendation of the Board of Health.

Council discussed at length, after the reading of a letter from the Health Board, the collection of garbage and refuse and a proposal that the borough take over this work, without taking any action. Burgess Weaver reported that one of the present three private collectors has said that he "can't and won't" collect twice a week in the summer as the ordinance provides, for what he is paid, and that local residents won't pay more.

Licenses Expire October 15

"If I have to, I will quit business," Councilman Hartzell quoted Paul Plank as saying. Other collectors gather garbage and refuse twice a week, councilmen said, and no complaints are received on their service.

"I think we should back up the Health Board," Councilman Johns said. "Can't we have an investigation of how other boroughs handle garbage collection?" Council President H. M. Oyer said: "As I see it, there are two ways we could collect garbage, do it ourselves or by contract." "One thing we could do," Councilman Teeter declared, "we could set up specifications and ask for bids." Burgess Weaver said licenses expire October 15. They could be renewed on a temporary basis. Trucks must be inspected and collectors sign an agreement that they understand and will abide by the ordinance.

Attorneys To Confer

Council also discussed the Health Board's claim that a borough ordinance exists, passed in 1885, which gives the borough authority to enter private property to eliminate a nuisance.

Mosquito breeding places brought up the question several weeks ago with the borough claiming that the Health Board had authority from the state, and the board citing the borough ordinance.

"We should cooperate with the Health Board," Councilman Johns said. "If both have the authority I don't see why we can't work together."

Borough Solicitor Buleit was directed to confer with Atty. Eugene R. Hartman, president of the Health Board.

as he indicated elements that will go into fixing property values. He mentioned specially the problems involved in analyzing sales prices in determining actual values. He said the right of property owners to appeal assessments has been preserved under the new law. The Lions were invited to visit Mr. Weaver's office in the court house.

J. E. Snyder, Third Ward assessor in Gettysburg, was singled out by Mr. Weaver for special praise as an assessor who is "doing an excellent job."

Paul Grove, music teacher in the public schools, was introduced as a new member of the local club upon transfer from Clark Summit, Pa. Oren H. Wilson, Gettysburg R. 4, was introduced as a guest.

President John S. Rice presided at the meeting with more than 100 Lions in attendance. A roast beef dinner was served by home economics students at the school. A meeting of the club's Community Betterment committee was announced and President Rice said next week's meeting will be held at St. James Lutheran Church with other local service clubs at a Pennsylvania Week observance.

DEATHS

Jacob Walter Schroeder, 58, a resident of the New Oxford area for the last three years, died this morning at 10:30 o'clock in Cumberland Twp.

He was a native of York County and was a machinist by trade. He was affiliated with the Artisan Lodge, Columbia. Among his survivors are his widow, Mrs. Catherine Schroeder, Chambersburg, and two daughters, Mrs. Harry M. Stoops, Waynesboro R. D., and Mrs. John C. Kitzmiller, York R. D.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

which we are raising funds, and not to ourselves as part of the drive. The dinner is being sponsored as a separate endeavor by a number of persons of the community. It helps to provide recognition for the persons who have the job of ringing doorbells up and down the community. It helps make the job of distribution easier and it gives us all an opportunity to gain more enthusiasm for the work," Swope said.

Clark Smith, fund drive chairman for this year, announced the appointment of John MacPhail as residential area chairman; C. W. Epley Jr. as business district chairman; Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Woman's clubs chairman; Horace Bender, fraternal organizations chairman, and Dean W. E. Tilberg, college drive chairman. Other committee heads will be named within the next few days, Smith said.

Named to the advertising committee were Carl Baum, John D. Lippy Jr. and Charles Bender, who were complimented on the work they carried out last year. The advertising committee outlined its plans for the forthcoming drive.

SCOUT PROGRAM

ments for participation and stating that the post will sponsor one Gettysburg scout's expenses to the Jamboree. Watson called the VFW move "the finest thing I've run into in a lifetime of scouting."

Seeks Sponsors

Watson said the $350 cost was an estimate because he hopes to obtain sponsorships for outfitting the patrols of the troops going to California. He said it will cost about $150 per patrol for special equipment.

Attendance from York-Adams at the California Jamboree will be "a senior adventure, as far as I can see it. The boys going should be at least 14. It's 3,000 miles across the country to the Jamboree and I don't believe we ought to send any 12 or 13-year-old youngsters that far. They don't have the experience and the maturity for the trip."

The last date on which reservations can be made for the trip is February 15, Watson said. The early date was decided to permit other districts, nearer the scene, to send more boys if the eastern troops cannot fill their quotas.

Watson also urged local leaders or physicians who may wish to attend the Camporee to contact him. Both leaders and physicians are needed, he said.

District Meeting Nov. 12

The annual district meeting will be held November 12 at a place to be announced later. Dr. Frederick Tilberg was named chairman of the program committee for the event. Dr. Joseph H. Riley was named chairman of the arrangements committee. Named to the nominating committee were Dean W. E. Tilberg, E. Donald Scott, Dr. Riley and Harvey Emlet.

The district committee voted to join with scout units throughout the nation in distributing door knob hangers urging people to vote.

Each troop was asked to have a representative present at 8 p.m. October 20 at the office of Attorney Buleit to pick up the hangers for his troop. The distribution will be made November 1.

Council Meeting Oct. 22

Chief Executive Watson announced that the annual area council planning committee will meet October 22 at the ranch of Col. Mahlon Haines. Dr. Joseph Riley will represent the local district.

Field Executive Harris reported that a reorganization has been effected placing a large portion of what formerly was the Round Top district into the Black Walnut district, thus giving the Black Walnut district all of the western half of Adams County.

The Conewago district embraces the eastern half of the county and Hanover. Harris said his duty will be to serve the two districts.

Harris outlined plans for a membership drive which will be presented to the Black Walnut district scouts and their leaders Saturday night at the camporee on the Scott farm.

Awards in the membership drive will include a Liberty Bell emblem for the troop flag and Liberty Bell neckerchief slides for the scouts obtaining new members, and for the new members themselves. The program, he added, will have to be adopted by each troop.

Plans for a Christmas party for the district were discussed. It may be held after the membership drive.

All of the Gettysburg troops agreed to place window displays during the Community Chest drive to demonstrate some of the work of the troops.

The possibility of participation by the York-Adams area in the annual Lincoln's birthday program held here by the Keystone (Harrisburg) council was outlined.

A resolution was presented by the Gettysburg troops complaining of delays in connection with the dispatch of purchases and supplies from the York office. Chief Executive Watson said the difficulty of obtaining office help was responsible, but said that efficient help had now been secured and that service will be improved. Field Executive Harris named

TOUGH TO PICK SERIES WINNER; FINISH 6 GAMES ON EVEN TERMS

By GAYLE TALBOT
BROOKLYN (P)—Two beautifully matched, equally gifted ball clubs came down to the wire in the seventh game of the World Series at Ebbets Field today, and it is a real chore to try to choose between them.

For six games the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees have fought on even terms. The Yankees, who were almost prohibitive favorites to win their fourth straight world championship with five or six games, finally found their match in Manager Charlie Dressen's comeback kids.

If there was any clue to today's probable winner, it possibly lay in the fact that the Dodgers had won the odd game all the way. They had led 1-0, 2-1 and 3-2 before succumbing for the second time to smokebatter Vic Raschi by 3 to 2 in yesterday's thriller. Today the odd game came up again.

Joe Black Ready
Also, there was the pleasant circumstance for the embattled National Leaguers that their great Negro rookie, Joe Black, was ready and anxious to get at the Yanks again after two days of rest. The Bombers could not say quite the same for their ace, Allie Reynolds, who came in to fire 22 pitches and save yesterday's tussle for Vic Raschi.

Except for a brief warmup late in Sunday's fifth game, when it looked as though his staminate, Carl Erskine, might require some help, Black had not thrown a ball since his losing duel with Reynolds on Saturday, when the Chief choked the Dodgers with a four-hitter.

Yesterday, Black sat in the dug-out while Duke Snider took on the Yankees single-handed, blasting two homers. The first came at the top of the sixth in the tense turkey shoot between Billy Loes and Raschi.

Expected Black
That put the Brooks ahead 1-0. Going into the seventh, they needed to retire only nine more Yankee batters to win the first world title in their noble history.

This observer, for one, expected to see Black vault from the dug-out. During the regular season, the ace reliever had virtually proved that no ball club could score on him in three innings.

But Loes, the 22-year-old who on numerous occasions during the regular season had shown himself allergic to pressure, continued to pitch.

It had to happen, and it did.

Wanted To Save Black
Dressen, whom we humbly hesitate to second-guess, said later that you couldn't take out a brilliant kid such as Loes under the circumstances. For six innings he had held the Yanks to two singles, one of them a scratch by Irv Noren which had bounced off Billy Cox's glove at third base.

Additionally, there was the fact that Charlie wanted very much to save Black for today's big decision in the event it proved necessary. Well, it happened.

Yogi Berra tied it up with a homer over the same inviting rightfield barrier to open the seventh. Then it was too late to bring in Black. Within a matter of minutes after that, Loes had surrendered a single to Gene Woodling, he had committed a balk, and Raschi had bounced a single off his leg to put the Yanks out in front, 2-1.

Dressen May Be Sorry
Mickey Mantle made it 3-1 with his tremendous blow into the centerfield seats to begin the eighth, and by the time crafty Preacher Roe came in to pitch to Mantle with one out and two Yankees on base in the top of the ninth, it was too late for the Dodgers to retrieve the victory.

In the meantime, the indomitable Snider had knocked his second homer a mile to pull the National Leaguers up to 3-2 in the eighth and put some heart into the sparse Brooklyn crowd of only 30,037. With two down, George Shuba then lined a double down the leftfield line, and that was when Casey Stengel decided Raschi should retire and make room for Reynolds.

Reynolds faced five men and struck out two of them. The stocky Indian did what Black might well have done for the Dodgers if manager Dressen had gambled and brought him forward in the seventh. Casey Stengel, the old form player, gambled. Dressen, the gambler, played it cosy, and he might be sorry before the sun sets over Ebbets Field tonight.

To Pick Penna. Open Champion In Playoff

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, and George Griffin Jr., of Green Valley, met today in an 18-hole playoff at Gulph Mills Golf Club to determine the champion of the 36th annual Pennsylvania Open.

Both finished in a first place tie with 36-hole totals of 143 yesterday. Ken Gibson of Huntingdon Valley, was one stroke behind with 144, and George Fazio, Pine Valley, and Johnny Bullas, of Westmoreland, were tied at 146. Henry Williams Jr., Berkeleigh, posted 150.

CASEY STENGEL GAMBLER, WON CRUCIAL GAME

By RALPH RODEN
BROOKLYN (P)—Casey Stengel speaking:

"I didn't want to use Reynolds but I had to take the chance."

Chuck Dressen:

"I would have put Joe Black in to protect a one-run lead late in the game but I never had a reason to give up on Loes."

Stengel's gamble paid off as Allie Reynolds salvaged a faltering Vic Raschi and saved a 3-2 victory yesterday that enabled the New York Yankees to square the 1952 World Series against Brooklyn at three games apiece.

Stengel Uncertain
Use of Reynolds, however, left Stengel uncertain as to today's starter in the seventh and deciding game.

Dressen, on the other hand, firmly announced that Black, his rookie relief artist, would fire away at the Yanks in the blue chip game.

Black, 1-1 in the series, was ready to relieve yesterday and start today.

"I talked with Reynolds before the game," Stengel said. "We decided if we used him some we could maybe use him for two or three innings Tuesday."

Raschi Was Tiring
Reynolds took over in the eighth inning with the Yanks leading, 3-2, and George Shuba on second base with two out. The Chief promptly fanned Roy Campanella to end the threat and retired the Dodgers in the ninth to keep alive the Yankees' hopes of a fourth straight championship.

The weary Chief has toiled 17 1-3 innings since the series began last Wednesday.

"Raschi hadn't lost his stuff," Stengel explained, "but he threw a couple of balls not quite where he wanted to throw 'em and I could see he was getting tired."

Raschi defended Stengel's decision.

Rare Accident Costly
"You gotta protect your lead," he said. "I wasn't tired. But they were just hitting the ball, that's all."

Duke Snider, who accounted for both Brooklyn runs with homers, hit a fast ball and a curve ball, according to Raschi.

"Both good pitches," the veteran right-hander said.

Billy Loes, Brooklyn's starting and losing pitcher, was, naturally, depressed over a rare accident in the seventh inning that cost him the ball game.

Ball "Squirted Away"
Yogi Berra opened the seventh with a home run to tie the score at 1-1. Gene Woodling followed with a single and moved to second on a balk when Loes dropped the ball while pitching to Irv Noren. Two outs later Woodling scored when Raschi batted a hit off Loes' left knee.

"I was trying to grip the ball for a curve and it just squirted out of my hands," Loes lamented.

"It never happened to me before—nothing like it. The ball completely got away from me. My hands weren't sweaty. It was just one of those things."

Loes said he never saw Raschi's run producing hit.

"The sun got in my eyes," he said. "I just felt it bang into my knee."

ADAMS COUNTY LEAGUE HOLDS FALL MEETING

All schools of the Adams County Scholastic Athletic Association were represented at the regular fall meeting held Monday evening at Biglerville. Jack Taylor, East Berlin, president, presided.

A discussion on six-man football for Fairfield, Newville, York Springs, East Berlin and New Oxford was held but no action was taken. President Taylor appointed the following committee to make a study on the proposal: Ira Kerr, Fairfield, chairman; Samuel Forbes, New Oxford, and William Drylie, York Springs.

It was decided to hold the Shaughnessy basketball playoffs at Biglerville next February 25 and 26.

The following committee was named to arrange the spring dinner-meeting: George Inskip, Fairfield, chairman; Mr. Kerr, Fairfield, and Arthur Gordon, Biglerville.

A new trophy committee was named as follows: Hobart Benchoff, Biglerville, chairman; Mr. Kerr, Fairfield, and Glen Kemper, York Springs.

JUNIOR HI 11 DOWNS DELONE BY 19-0 SCORE

Gettysburg Junior High School's football team got off to an impressive start here Monday evening as it blanked Delone 19-0 before several hundred fans.

Joe Fox, halfback, raced around right end for 18 yards and a score early in the first period. A pass for the point was incomplete.

A recovered fumble by the locals paved the way for the second tally in the same period. Joe Tonsel, streaking through left tackle from the 30 to hit pay dirt. Bob Bonduant plunged through for the extra point.

Score Via Pass

In the second period Bonduant whipped a 15-yard pass to Merle Gorman for a score. A pass to Gorman was completed on the extra point try but Gettysburg was ruled off-sides and the officials ruled out another try which was contrary to the rules.

The second half was scoreless with Coach Rogers Herr employing a number of reservists freely.

Delone made its best bid for a score in the third quarter following a pass interception. The Squires were halted at the 10-yard line.

All of the local players gave indications of developing into fine future varsity stars with Joe Tonsel playing particularly well.

The Herr-men will next tangle with Boiling Springs on the latter's field Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The lineups:

WISCONSIN IN FIRST PLACE IN AP GRID POLL

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (P)—The power-laden Badgers of the University of Wisconsin took over first place in the weekly Associated Press football poll today by the simple expedient of beating the favorite in the Big Ten Conference.

The favorite in this case was the University of Illinois, which won the Big Ten championship last year and whipped Stanford in the Rose Bowl. The Illini were rated the choice to go on to another title this time around. But the Badgers' 20-6 triumph over the Illini last Saturday made the 138 sports writers and sports casters, who voted in the second poll, sit up and take notice.

They gave Wisconsin 27 first-place ballots and 1,128 points. The Badgers now are big favorites to win the Big Ten championship and make the trip to the Rose Bowl this year.

Michigan State Second
The first-week leader, Michigan State, was ranked second with 960 points and 24 firsts. California was third with 961 points and 23 firsts. Maryland polled 834 points with 22 firsts and Georgia Tech rounded out the top five with 734 points and 12 firsts.

Its defeat caused Illinois to be bounced right out of the top 10. The Illini ranked No. 2 a week ago. The same fate befell Texas, fifth last week, only in this case it was worse. The Longhorns, beaten by Notre Dame, 14-3, couldn't even make the first 20.

Others In Top 10
The remainder of the top 10 included Duke (6), Southern California (7), Notre Dame (8), Kansas (9) and Princeton (10).

Georgia Tech, California and Duke all improved on their position from last week, while the two newcomers, who replaced Illinois and Texas, were Notre Dame and Princeton.

The votes were tabulated on a basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, 8 for third and so on.

REFeree DIES DURING FIGHT

NEW ORLEANS (P)—Referee Ashton Donze collapsed and died during a feature fight last night to become the second New Orleans boxing fatality in less than two days.

The 50-year-old referee fell to the canvas seconds before the end of the sixth round between welterweights Ross Virgo of Rochester, N. Y., and Jack O'Brien of Hartford, Conn.

Jimmy (Bud) Taylor, a promising Negro middleweight from Miami, Fla., died Sunday of brain injuries received in his fight Friday against Charley Joseph in the same ring.

A police emergency squad gave Donze artificial respiration for several minutes and then Dr. Hilda Reynaud of Charity Hospital pronounced the referee dead.

Announced Duke Durel told the spectators the boxing commission had called the fight a draw. He asked them to leave the coliseum.

An army blanket was slipped over Donze's body lying under the brilliant ring lights. Slowly in silence the spectators moved to the exits.

In ancient times meteors were believed to originate in the atmosphere.

GROZA, BEARD MAY RESUME SPORT CAREERS

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (P)—Two of the most fabulous careers in basketball, those of Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, may be resumed after seemingly being blighted forever by the college fix scandal of 1951.

A spokesman for the Jersey City club of the American Basketball League said Monday night Groza and Beard will play with that team this winter, along with Sherman White, another major figure in the scandal.

However, President John O'Brien of the league said in New York the signing of the three confessed participants in point spread fixing must still be approved by the loop. It doesn't meet until Oct. 23.

Forced Out And Banned
Groza and Beard were stars of the Indianapolis Olympians of the National Basketball Association when the scandal broke last year. They were forced to sell their one-third share in the club and were banned indefinitely from the NBA.

Fresh from the 1948 Olympic championship team and a great University of Kentucky quintet, Groza and Beard organized the Olympians for the 1949-50 season along with fellow Kentuckians Wallace Jones, Joe Holland and Cliff Barker.

J. R. (Babe) Kimbrough resigned as sports editor of the Lexington (Ky.) Herald to manage the team and help with the organization.

Won Western Title
The general opinion around the circuit was that the young team would find itself a little over its head against the veteran pros of the NBA. It didn't work out that way.

The Olympians won the Western Division championship of the league the first year. The 6 feet 7 Groza averaged 23.4 points a game, second only to George Mikan of Minneapolis. Beard was 12th in the league with a 14.9 average.

The team dropped to fourth place in its division the next season but Groza again was the second-best scorer in the league and Beard was eighth.

Both On Probation
Then came the scandal in New York. Groza and Beard admitted that, while they were playing for Kentucky, they'd held down the point spread in a 1949 National Invitation Tournament game with Loyola of Chicago at Madison Square Garden. The Kentuckians played it too close and were upset, 67-56.

Both drew suspended sentences in New York General Session Court last April and were placed on indefinite probation.

White didn't get a chance to show his prowess in pro ball before the scandal broke. He was Long Island U's pride and considered top-ranking collegiate star of the season before the betting lot was exposed early in 1951.

He pleaded guilty to a conspiracy charge and drew a one-year prison term which he has already served.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Guards' Ball a Success: A second grand ball was held by members of the Independent Guard Company Gettysburg Guards in Xavier Hall Friday evening. Quite a large crowd was present, many of whom participated in dancing while others enjoyed themselves listening to the fine music rendered by the G. A. Band and watching the merry dancers.

The grand march moved promptly at eight o'clock, and was most gracefully led by Lieut. Keith and Miss McKnight, about 20 couples participating.

The event was a success financially and otherwise. The net proceeds amounted to $30.

Marriages: Beaver-King—Oct. 1st, at Virginia Mills, by Rev. J. F. Mackley, Jacob Gross Beaver, of Fairfield, to Miss Drucie Maye King, of Virginia Mills.

Wilt-Small—Oct. 7th, at Hanover, by Rev. Peter J. Crane, Harvey S. Wilt to Miss Ida A. Small, both of Conewago township.

Shaner-Little—Oct. 2, at the Mt. Joy parsonage, by Rev. W. G. Minnick, Harry S. Shaner, of Cumberland township, to Miss Elva I. Little, Mountjoy township.

Local Miscellany: M. T. Bupp is erecting an addition to his carriage house on North Stratton street.

The winter apple crop of Adams county this year is estimated at about 12,000 bushels.

The printing plant of the late S. G. Cook, York street, has been purchased by Reuben Minter, of Arentsville, who will move the same to that town.

The appearance of the large double house on the College campus, occupied by Professors Bickle and Nixon has been greatly improved by painting and the addition of a neat porch facing the college gate.

Potatoes are advancing in price and are now selling at 40 cents a bushel.

Thirty-one persons accompanied the Baltimore excursion from this place and vicinity Thursday.

Little L. owned by Edgar C. Tawney, of this place, and driven by Clayton Moxley, took second money in the 225 trot and pace race at the Carlisle fair on Wednesday and on Thursday took first money in the 240 class. Purse $300.

Charles L. Swope, of near Gettysburg, has purchased of C. A. Spangler a half interest in the latter's butchering business in Hanover.

At Waynesboro the Frick Company has joined the Geiser Company in giving notice that no union men will be employed after October 10th.

The famous "Wheatfield," which was literally covered with dead bodies after the battle of Gettysburg, is being put in wheat. The soil has not been turned since 1866. The object is to have it set in grass. J. B. Solt, residing on the Trostle farm is doing the work.

The Tabard Inn Book Club has made L. M. Buehler's drug store its headquarters. The books are kept in a revolving case which makes it very convenient.

Officers Installed: The following officers will be installed at Christ Lutheran church on Sunday: Elders, Dr. J. A. Singmaster, Prof. Chas. H. Huber; Deacons, Harry B. Bender, Robert B. McClean; Trustees, Prof. E. S. Breidenbaugh and J. Emory Bair.

Real Estate Sales: Ephraim Howard, of Straban township, has sold his farm situated in same township, containing 115 acres to Edward Trostle, of this place.

J. Harry Slaybaugh, of Milwaukee, Wis., has sold his farm in Straban township containing about 30 acres, to C. A. B. Howard, of Mechanicsburg, for $1,100.

Thos. G. Heckenhuber, of Menallen township, has bought the Henry Cluck farm in Butler township.

Death Claims: M. M. Musselman, a gloom of sadness was cast over the town on Thursday when the death of Maurice M. Musselman, aged 29 years, was announced.

In the fall of 1895 he entered the Peoples Drug Store as manager, retaining that position until his death.

Today's Talk

THE FIVE-YEAR LOOK AHEAD

We have heard a great deal the five-year plan. How about the five-year look ahead? What will happen to you, in your work and life, five years from now? What would you like to be at that time? What will you have accomplished?

We gain nothing from our looking behind except to so plan that we may not make the mistakes that we did then. And we can decide and determine that we can, and will, more than match what we have done worthy of note. But ahead—say five years—we can dream and build to it as though it were to prove a great milestone in our life, as it will might prove!

It is all very well to live for the day, but why not bear in mind that this day, and every succeeding one, shall be a brick, or important segment, in that five-year look ahead? Cities and governments do this. How much more important for individuals, who make up the mass of cities and governments, to do the same.

You may remark that you may not be alive five years from now. Well, even though you shall have lived half of that time, or even for a month, or one more day, you will be ahead! We must appraise worth and happiness from scratch. There is satisfaction in any looking ahead—and arriving at the destination with full equipment, and a dream achieved!

When the buyer of land sets his stakes he knows at once just what he has to work with, and he starts to imagine all that every foot of that land may be worth to him. Those pioneers of ours who went into the forests, cleared them, planted grain and fruit trees, and put up fences, knew that it would be years before adequate production would result. They had no small plans in their minds. Theirs were more than five-year looks ahead!

What a wonderful idea it is to get that five-year look ahead well lodged in one's mind. It may prove to end up in a ten-year look—or perhaps more! We can always safely stretch our vision!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Defiant Man." Protected, 1952, by the George Matthew Adams Service.

Just Folks

THE DANGEROUS SEASON

With a helmet on his head,
On his feet the cleated shoes;
Neath his eye a streak of red,
Soon to purple to a bruise,
Everywhere some boy I see,
Homeward bound this time of year.

And it's plain as plain can be
That the football season's here.

At a window or a door
There's a mother I behold,
Watching anxiously once more
For her sturdy twelve-year-old.

Well I know this she fears
When she sees him drawing near
He will limp when he appears
Now the football season's here.

Every mother of a boy
After school time lives in dread
That her rugged pride and joy
May not safely get to bed,
And she wonders what she'll find
When his game is lost or won,
For she'll have no peace of mind
Till the football season's done.

ADLAI ACCUSES EISENHOWER OF HELPING REDS

By JACK BELL

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois today accused Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower of giving "comfort" to Soviet Russia by labeling American prosperity as war-born.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said in an address prepared for the opening of a five-day campaign tour here that "there is no greater servicer of the Republican candidate could do America in its world role than to suggest that our economic strength at home is a war prosperity."

"When the general speaks of our prosperity as being war-born, who can gain comfort except the Soviets, who shout to the world that we have undertaken our defense program, not to insure peace, but to prevent a depression at home by waging war abroad?" the Illinois governor demanded. He added:

Takes Offensive
"We expect this kind of talk from irresponsibles and isolationists, but not from a man who was formerly looked upon as an understanding leader in world affairs."

Stevenson, scheduled to arrive here by air about noon from Springfield, Ill., thus prepared to take the offensive against his opponent, busily campaigning in the Pacific Northwest.

Eisenhower's statement on which Stevenson took off was made in several speeches. At Philadelphia on Sept. 4, the general declared that "today our initiative, imagination and productive system are once more tied and shackled to war and the prospect of war," adding:

"Our economy is a war economy. Our prosperity is a war prosperity."

Major Address in Detroit
Not so, said Stevenson. Instead, he contended that "our high standard of living has been maintained since the Korean outbreak, not because of the defense program but in spite of it."

"It has been maintained for the simple reason that our great productive power has increased total national output by more than the defense burden has increased," the Democratic nominee said.

Stevenson's prepared Saginaw speech was only a preliminary to a major address he has scheduled tonight in Detroit on all phases of the Communist threat—internal and external. The speech will be televised and radio-cast (10:30 p.m., EST, CBS).

The Detroit speech was billed as the climax of an afternoon of motorcade campaigning through Ypsilanti, Wayne, Wyandotte, Ecorse and River Rouge in the highly industrialized area of Michigan.

IKE FEUDS WITH PRESIDENT; IS IGNORING ADLAI

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was virtually ignoring Adlai Stevenson today to feud with President Truman over which party would do the most for the Pacific Northwest in water power development.

The GOP candidate drew a bead on Truman as his prime target of ridicule and scorn while pushing through Washington into Oregon on his 28-state transcontinental drive.

His schedule during the day called for him to make talks at seven cities and towns in Washington and Oregon—with the major speech at Portland, Ore., at 1:45 p. m. (PST). The talks were scheduled for Tacoma, Centralia and Vancouver, Wash., and Portland, Salem, Albany and Eugene, Ore.

"Whole Hog" Government
Last night in Seattle, Eisenhower referred to Truman as "an expert in political demagoguery" giving the people "a course in nonsense fiction." And he called the Truman regime a "whole-hog" government operating on the theory that "the federal government must do everything for us and to us."

The crowd of some 5,000 that jammed the Civic Ice Arena cheered lustily. Eisenhower beamed. An additional 5,000 persons were seated in a high school football stadium nearby, listening to the speech through loud speakers.

The crowd cheered again when Eisenhower said of Truman's attacks against him and the Republic.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said in an address prepared for the opening of a five-day campaign tour here that "there is no greater servicer of the Republican candidate could do America in its world role than to suggest that our economic strength at home is a war prosperity."

"When the general speaks of our prosperity as being war-born, who can gain comfort except the Soviets, who shout to the world that we have undertaken our defense program, not to insure peace, but to prevent a depression at home by waging war abroad?" the Illinois governor demanded. He added:

"You have been conducted through an underworld of imaginary devils."

Outlines Own Ideas
He went on to outline his own ideas about the development of Western resources which he said would mean "the full use of private resources plus a local-state-federal partnership" in reclamation programs.

He turned thumbs down on a federally controlled Columbia Valley authority which would be similar to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

"The present administration's answer to further resource development," he said, "is the valley authority, a kind of super-government blue-printed in Washington, D. C., and manned from there. You don't need more super government."

And then he referred to the "whole-boggers who want a Columbia Valley authority, a Brannan Plan, and socialized medicine."

Answers Truman Jibe
Rather than a federal Columbia Valley authority, Eisenhower argued, there should be a "new interstate body" in which state members would have equal authority with federal members in working out navigation and flood control programs.

President Truman has called Eisenhower the "front man" for special interest lobbyists. In reply to this, Eisenhower said:

"But you folks know that the greatest special privilege, the greatest lobby, the greatest concentration of power ever known is now operating, full speed ahead, right down on the Potomac to perpetuate itself in power."

Cold is the absence of heat and at 460 degrees below zero Fahrenheit it is impossible to get any colder.

Littlestown CE SOCIETY IS RE-ORGANIZED

Reorganization of the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church took place at the first fall meeting on Sunday evening at the church. Election of officers was held and the results follow:

President, Mrs. Jean DeGroot; vice president, Miss Evelyn Dickinson; secretary, William Benner; treasurer, James Zulick; pianist, Miss Jean Blocher. The program on Sunday evening was opened with a song service for which Jean Blocher was accompanist. Prayer was offered by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer. The Scripture lesson was read by Frances Miller. Mrs. DeGroot was selected to be the leader for the meeting next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. The session closed with the C. E. benediction repeated in unison by the group.

Twenty-one members were in attendance at the weekly meeting of the Junior Fellowship of Centenary Methodist Church on Monday evening at the church. The opening prayer was given by Albert Miller III and the devotions and hymn sing were conducted by Mrs. Albert H. Miller Jr. The program was arranged and announced by Pansy Knight. The program presented included the following: Baton twirling act by Lois Shull; selections by a vocal trio composed of Phyllis Rimel, Lois Shull and Pansy Knight; guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. Harvey B. Simons. Mrs. Simons spoke on the subject of Columbus and his voyage to the new country, his discovery of America and later life here and his religion. Phyllis Rimel was selected to be in charge of the program for the meeting of the organization next Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Ruth Myers will arrange the devotions and guest night will be observed. Each member is requested to bring a guest along to the meeting. A special appeal will be secured for the meeting in two weeks, according to an announcement made last night. A Halloween party will be held for the members on Monday, Oct. 27.

Lloyd R. Baker comprise the committee for arranging a special program to be presented at the monthly meeting of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association, Inc., on Wednesday evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the Fish and Game clubhouse, Germany Twp., near town.

Home On Furlough
Richard E. Boyd, who is stationed at the Lake Charles Air Force Base, La., is spending a 19-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Boyd, and family, E. King St.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Hillemeier and daughter, Ellen, Lancaster, visited during the weekend with Mrs. Hillemeier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breighner, Walnut St., and with other relatives and friends in the community.

Those from Littlestown who attended the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton in Emmitsburg on Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas French and children, David and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Lain and daughters, Linda and Geraldine, and Mrs. Daniel Dietrich and children, Virginia and Daniel.

Mrs. Carrie Stultz and son, Richard, N. Queen St., have returned home after spending several days at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Stultz and family, York. During that time they visited with the latter Mr. Stultz who is a patient in the West Side Osteopathic Hospital, York, where he was admitted on Thursday, following a sudden illness when he was stricken while at work in the Hallam Bank. His condition is reported improved and his family is allowed to visit briefly with him.

Dying Baby IS REVIVED

CLEVELAND (AP)—Working feverishly, five physicians revived a dying baby yesterday after he strangled on a piece of orange. They estimated his heart stopped beating for at least 10 minutes.

The infant, Demetrius L. Morgan, 2, was unconscious when his father rushed him to St. Luke's Hospital. A tracheotomy operation opened his throat and a doctor breathed down a tube into the opening to provide air.

The piece of orange was lifted out through the incision. Another operation opened the child's chest, and a doctor reached in and massaged the baby's still heart.

Then four or five minutes later, the little organ began beating again.

A nurse estimated the entire operation took only 10 or 12 minutes. The child was reported in fair condition.

Western Maryland Observes 100th Anniversary; Brought Lincoln Here On Nov. 18, '63

This is the sixth in a series of 11 articles on railroading in Adams County.

The Western Maryland Railway company this year celebrates the 100th anniversary of its chartering by the Maryland general assembly. It is included among the oldest large scale private business enterprises in the United States. As it celebrates its centennial with a series of events, the strategically located Western Maryland is a financially successful, Class 1 road, enjoying a high rank in the transportation industry.

Western Maryland's fast freight services, its principal connections with routes of other railroads, its operational techniques and its role in world trade through the continuously growing port of Baltimore, are well known among shippers and in railroad circles.

The road is preponderantly a hauler of freight—coal, ore, grain and miscellaneous traffic. Its lack of participation in large scale passenger service has caused the general public to have only relative knowledge of the company's extensive operations.

850 Miles of Track
The system today contains more than 850 miles of main line track, employs 5,600 men and women, and operates regularly 17 fast freight trains in addition to its regular freight services.

Historically, the line's most dramatic hours were those in November, 1863, when the Hanover Branch Railroad, now a part of the Western Maryland, carried President Lincoln into Gettysburg on the occasion of the dedication of the National Cemetery and Lincoln's immortal "Gettysburg Address."

Prior to and after the battle of Gettysburg, thousands of soldiers and tons of ammunition and supplies were shipped over what is now the Western Maryland for the three-day battle at Gettysburg. The military situation checked the road's growth for some time during the hectic days of the Civil War. Operations were difficult. Trains were often run deliberately off schedule to prevent their capture by the "rebels."

The first Western Maryland engine was the "Canary," also known as the "Green Spring," a little 12-ton locomotive, a midge as compared with the 500-ton Diesel and steam locomotives of the road today. The "Canary" won extra fame in 1861 when a company of Baltimore men, wishing to join the Confederate army, went to Owings Mills, captured Engineer Moran and the engine, and at gun point made him carry them to the end of the line.

Heavy Passenger Carrier
It was under John Mifflin Hood, a Confederate veteran whose bronze statue stands at Hopkins Place in Baltimore, that the Western Maryland became for a time a considerable carrier of passengers. Mention of this era, beginning shortly after 1874 when Hood took over the presidency, brings nostalgic sighs to those who can remember those affluent days.

During the 50 years that Pen Mar was one of the most famous resorts in the east and center of the fashionable summer colony from Blue Ridge and Monterey on the east to Blue Mountain on the west, Western Maryland trains were loaded down with passengers each summer day. The Blue Mountain house at Pen Mar, destroyed by fire in August, 1913, was the best known of these resorts. When the Blue Ridge hotels were at their peak in 1898, the Western Maryland carried 1,200,000 passengers, and almost half of them were excursionists.

The Western Maryland, in addition to its "main line" and its "short line" through Gettysburg, has numerous extensions. An operation probably without parallel in world railroading took place in Black Water canyon, in West Virginia, on the Cumberland-Elkins line, where there is a 3.85 percent grade. To make this climb, one of the steepest main line grades in the country, it is sometimes necessary to use ten locomotives, one for each ten cars in a string of 100.

$216,000,000 Investment
Western Maryland today represents a total investment of $216,000,000. Chairman of the board is Eugene S. Williams. Headquarters ters is in Baltimore; and W. Arthur Grotz is president.

In addition to the many excursion parties brought to Gettysburg by the Western Maryland, special trains brought crowds here for other "events."

The Gettysburg Times of October 20, 1916, recorded that a special train of the W-M brought more than 300 here from Hanover, New Oxford and other points on the line for revival services. "The crowd marched from the station through the square to York and Stratton streets to the tabernacle, headed by the New Oxford band," the account said.

Another kind of a special came here on November 1, 1916, over the Western Maryland. On that occasion J. Frank Hanly, the candidate of the Prohibition party for president of the United States, and his running mate, Dr. Ira Landreth, vice presidential candidate, visited Gettysburg on a tour of the nation.

College Grad President
One of the presidents of the Western Maryland Railroad was a graduate of Gettysburg College, at the time of his graduation known as Pennsylvania College.

He was Winslow Shelby Pierce, who was born in Shelbyville, Ind., in 1857 and graduated here (Pennsylvania College) in 1887 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He obtained an LL.B. degree from the University of Michigan later, and also studied at the University of Virginia and Columbia University. He was connected with the Washburn, Ann Arbor and other railroads and became president of the W-M in 1902 the first time, serving in this capacity for seven months. He was president again from 1904 to 1907. He died in 1916 at East Orange, N. J.

Oldest Employee
The history of the Western Maryland Company would not be complete without reference to its oldest employee, Charles Wesley Myers, of 149 Chambersburg St. Mr. Myers, now 86 years old, has been a Western Maryland employee for 77 years, starting to work for the railroad when he was only nine years old.

Born in Gettysburg March 15, 1866, less than three years after the famous Battle of Gettysburg, Mr. Myers was errand boy, telegrapher, station and freight agent, and general factotum of the Western Maryland in Gettysburg.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Jefferson Myers. "Charlie" Myers and "Western Maryland" have become synonymous in Gettysburg because of his long and faithful association with his company.

He still holds the position of Western Maryland agent here. (To Be Continued)

FBI BEGINS CUT IN PERSONNEL; FUNDS REDUCED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation, with personnel recently at peak levels, has begun a gradual reduction of staff to get its payroll within the limits of current appropriations.

Bureau officials said the cut can be carried out without interference with vital internal security tasks because some of FBI's routine investigations of applicants for government jobs have been shifted to the Civil Service Commission.

A bureau official said in response to inquiries that no firings are in progress, or planned—the FBI is simply depending on the normal number of resignations, without replacements, bringing the payroll into line with available funds inside the next few months.

Won't Estimate Cut
During this freeze on new appointments, the bureau has likewise suspended staff transfers on its own motion from one grade to another which might involve higher pay. Employees who might normally rate such promotions are being placed on a list for later recognition.

Congress gave FBI a 1953 fiscal appropriation of $84,400,000 compared with $90,260,000 last year, and the new funds were further cut to about 77 million when the Budget Bureau impounded a portion to be used as needed by the appropriate agency in the investigation of job applicants.

The FBI declined to estimate in numbers just how much staff reduction is in prospect. The FBI payroll now totals 14,600 which includes 6,600 special agents in the investigation field.

TRUMAN TOLD PARTY NEEDS HELP IN COLO.

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN

President Truman was told that the Democrats face an uphill battle in Colorado as he intensified his campaigning today for that state's six electoral votes.

Key Democratic officials told reporters they are counting on the President's "give-em-hell" presentation of the issues to transpire crowds not only to stir up interest among the voters but to lay down the issues for candidates within the states.

Moving into Colorado last night, Truman told a crowd at Rifle that his present tour is "only the beginning" and that a lot more of the Republicans "will be worried before I finish reading the terrible Republican record to the American people from one end of the country to the other."

Party officials who climbed aboard the presidential campaign train at Grand Junction, Colo., informed this reporter that they told the President his presence is needed to stir up the party organization and chart the issues on which to fight out the campaign here.

They said the fact that the Re-

SALARY BOARD GOES TO COURT

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The salary board of Northumberland County asked the Pennsylvania Supreme Court to upset a common pleas ruling that the board acted "arbitrarily and capriciously" in cutting the number of clerks in the county treasurer's office from five to three last January.

The salary board is composed of the three county commissioners—George A. Dietrick, John U. Shroyer and George F. Perles—and the county controller, Robert Gibson.

This board met Jan. 10, three days after it assumed office and turned down a request from Treasurer John E. Martz for a deputy and five clerks—the number which had worked in the office for 12 years. The board gave him a deputy and only three clerks.

Didn't Try To Comply
Atty. George G. Chandler, representing the board, argued Treasurer Martz made no effort to comply with the board's order.

"Mr. Martz came into the Jan. 10 meeting with a list of employees and the salaries they were to be paid," said Chandler. "When the board refused to do exactly what he wanted, he ran out of the meeting. He never considered whether he could operate the office efficiently with less than five clerks. He made no effort to comply."

As to the right of the board to publican presidential nominee made his headquarters at Denver, and that this is the home state of his wife, is one of the factors the Democrats have to overcome in this state.

Truman promised to hit hard at the Republican record on both foreign and domestic policy at depot talks today at Malta, Salida, Canon City, Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Limon, Denver and Akron.

Another Crack At Ike
The presidential special stopped for the night Monday at Glenwood Springs, Colo., where the President, in a speech, declared the proposed Colorado River storage project will "bring electric power and new and bigger industries to this area."

Before the project is ultimately approved, he warned, it has to have a White House okay and Adlai Stevenson's decision "won't be dictated by the private power lobby."

And in another fling at Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, he declared: "And that's a lot more than I can say for the Republican candidate."

"If you want that upper Colorado storage project you had better vote Democratic," he added.

THREE KILLED WHEN BIG C47 PLANE CRASHES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three men were killed and three others injured early today when a C47 U. S. Air Force plane crashed in a swamp near Northeast Philadelphia airport.

An Air Force spokesman at the Military Flight Service Base at Middletown, Pa., said the plane was en route from Niagara Falls, N. Y., to Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y.

The spokesman said the plane was unable to get down at Mitchell Field because of weather conditions and then attempted to land at La Guardia Field, N. Y.

The plane "made a pass" at the field, the spokesman said, and missed the approach. Last word from the craft was heard shortly before 2 a. m. (EST) when the pilot radioed they were lower than 2,000 feet. Philadelphia police said the crash occurred about an hour later.

The Air Force said the plane had gone on to Philadelphia to try to get down at International Airport, a larger field at the other end of the city.

Identification of the crew was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Attendants at Nazareth Hospital said none of the three survivors was injured seriously.

Gets 4-6 Years For Killing Wife

HARRISBURG (AP)—George O. Crisswell, 26, Middle Paxton Township, was sentenced yesterday to four to six years in prison for the shotgun slaying of his wife at their farm home north of Dauphin June 8.

Crisswell, convicted of voluntary manslaughter, contended that the shooting was accidental. Sentence was pronounced by Dauphin County Judge Homer Kreider 10 days after the jury arrived at its decision with a recommendation of leniency.

In the Matter of the Estate of GEORGE M. MALENKOV, a Stain favorite, told the party's six million members who run the country's 210 million people they must bear responsibility for correcting defects in the economy.

He complained that the factories aren't turning out enough work. He wants it stepped up. Which is another way of saying more work from the workers. The speed-up.

The reason: Russia's own defense program and its determination to pull more closely abreast of the West in industrial output. It's still away behind although making progress.

There is always hope in the non-Communist world that when Stalin dies his political heirs will wreck the party in their struggle for power and so eliminate Russia as a menace.

This can be only wishful thinking until it is known at last whether Stalin has handpicked a successor to take over after him without trouble. So speculating on a possible Stalin heir has become almost a Western hobby.

There was a lot of this speculation some weeks ago when it was learned Malenkov would deliver the keynote speech which Stalin had reserved for himself at previous congresses. Did this mean Malenkov was the crown prince?

Maybe. But Stalin certainly took the play away from him before Malenkov could open his mouth. Last Thursday, just before the Congress began, the monthly magazine Bolshevik appeared with one of Stalin's infrequent articles.

Stalin said there would have to be a "five-hour" day. This didn't conflict with Malenkov. Stalin was just making a pep talk about how things ought to be in the future in a socialist state. He didn't say when, though.

But that was only part of what he said in 50 pages covering Marxian economics and foreign affairs. The statement will be examined in the West for possible clues to Russian intentions.

Since Stalin has never been accused of being too obvious, the full significance of what he said may not be clear for years.

Nevertheless he insisted as always—in the familiar "Who, me?" technique of the Communists—that Russia has only peaceful intentions. But he offered a prediction:

That the Western capitalist countries would fight among themselves. He said the struggle among them in the future for markets was "inevitable." This was interpreted, along with some other things he said, as trying to drive a wedge between the Allies.

TAFT SCHEDULED For Month's Campaign

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Declaring Sen. Robert Taft supports Gen. Eisenhower "to the hilt," Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.) has outlined a month-long coast-to-coast speaking schedule which will bring Taft to Philadelphia Oct. 23.

Dirksen told a press conference yesterday in answer to queries that Taft has never tried to "run the general's show," is eminently satisfied and wholeheartedly for Ike.

The Ohio senator entered Illinois today after a five-day speaking tour of his home state.

The history gave a graphic account of Lewis, picturing him as the nemesis of American employers, a man who nurtured the American labor movement to what it is today.

WIFE, HUBBY TEAMS HAVE REAL PROBLEMS

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—I once knew the proprietor of a shooting gallery who would never let his wife work with him.

"I just don't like the thought of her standing there by the guns when I turn my back to fix the targets," he explained. "Even the best of women shouldn't be tempted too far."

There is a less dramatic reason why there are so few successful husband-and-wife teams in the bright world of the theater—the clash of temperaments, the off-stage noises they make at each other.

Leads To Divorces
"My dear," murmurs hubby cutting, "were you saying your lines, or trying to gargle them?"
"You stepped on my foot again in the kissing scene, you ox," says wife, "and the next time you do it I'm going to bite the end of your nose off and throw it at the audience."

Four quarrels later they tell it to a divorce court judge, and from then on they act on separate stages.

But Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne long have been a shining example of how two great stars can marry and pursue a career together. Now a new and younger team, Rex Harrison and Lilli Palmer, hope to match their enduring success in harmony.

Rehearsed At Home
A play—"No Time for Comedy"—brought them together in London in 1941. Since their marriage they jointly starred in two more plays, three films, and an off-stage production they are proudest of—their son, Carey, born during a German air blitz on the British capital. They cited their latest film, "The Four Poster," a tender tale of married life in which they share top billing with a bed, as evidence of the advantages of such teamwork.

"We were able to finish it in 23 days because we were able to rehearse at home together," said Lilli, a lady with magnificent eyes who was once told by a drama coach, "You have no charm—you are like a schoolmarm."

Have Different Hobbies
"We couldn't have done it so quickly unless we were married," she added. "We agree always on points of performance—well, practically always."

"Yes," broke in Rex. "You can't be compatible on the stage and incompatible off—not if you're married."

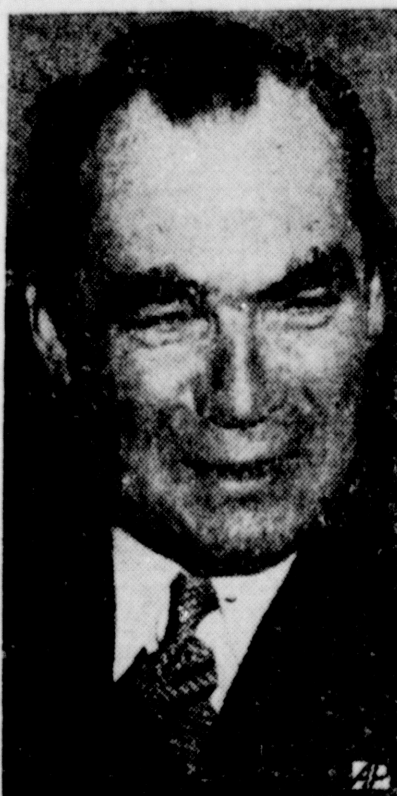

Wedded in art, they avoid possible martial monotony by pursuing different hobbies. Lilli paints and water skis. Rex likes to golf and fish. One hobby they share: Collecting Old Dutch Delft porcelain, and they search the world for new pieces.

Took For New Roles
They plan their work so they can always summer together in their villa atop a hill at Portofino on the Italian Riviera. But for weeks they have been holed up in their beautifully furnished east side seven-room apartment trying to find a new play. It's anxious work. "We've read at least 50," said Lilli.

"You're lucky if you find two possible ones out of a hundred," said Rex. "And even then it is always a guess."

The task is to find a drama tailored to both.
"It's not only that it is more practical to work together because we can share our holidays—" said Lilli.

The Play Comes First
"It's more fun," finished Rex.

RED ENVOY—George N. Zarubin, new Soviet Ambassador to the U. S., smiles in Washington after calling on Secretary of State Acheson. He succeeds Alexander Panyushkin.

(As a husband he knows all the right answers.)

But both know they must face the facts of a profession that takes little heed of the private lives and personal wishes of its followers. The play is still the thing.

"Nothing stands before a good part," said Rex.

"An actor must follow his role, wherever it is," agreed Lilli resignedly.

But there is always the villa at Portofino waiting for them on the hill.

CONVICT SEEKS FREEDOM AFTER 17-YEAR TERM

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The State Superior Court has been asked to free a man from the Eastern State Penitentiary after 17 years because the prisoner contends his civil rights were violated during his trial.

The court heard the appeal of Joseph Uhler, serving a 10 to 20-year sentence for robbery and seven to 15 years for possession of concealed deadly weapons. Uhler, who is serving the terms consecutively, was sentenced in Schuylkill County in 1935.

Through a court-appointed counsel, Charles A. Kerlavage, Uhler asked that he be freed because he "was not provided the benefit of counsel when he pleaded guilty to the charges and therefore should be granted a writ of habeas corpus."

Prepared Own Brief
Uhler, who according to Schuylkill County Dist. Atty. Robert M. Harris, prepared his own brief, said that U. S. Supreme Court decisions upheld his position that in such cases anyone who was denied the right of counsel should be freed.

Harris cited that he was not district attorney at the time of the Uhler case. He added that in the Supreme Court decisions cited by Uhler the defendants had been young men with no criminal records whereas Uhler had four previous convictions.

Harris also noted that at the time Uhler pleaded guilty he "told the court that he was aware of his constitutional rights in not having

Strike Keeps Two TV Shows Off Air

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two NBC television shows failed to go on Sunday night when engineers walked out of the network's facilities in Washington and Hollywood.

NBC said in New York that "the differences were resolved" in a meeting. A union official, Executive Secretary George Maher of the Independent National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (NABET), said at Skokie, Ill., he would issue a statement on the matter.

The Washington walkout lasted more than four hours, during which the engineers negotiated with TV station WNBW and radio station WRC. They returned pending further talks with the station management.

The dispute reportedly was over planned consolidation of the WNBW and WRC studios, now separated, and working conditions.

CLEAN STREAM ACTION URGED

YORK, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania division of the Izaak Walton League of America intends to press state officials for immediate enforcement of the clean streams act in cases where municipalities have been cited for failure to comply.

Ending a two-day convention here on Sunday, about 50 delegates representing the state's 20 chapters voted to petition both Gov. John S. Fine and Atty. Gen. Robert E.
